

Questions on Course Availability Consent Form

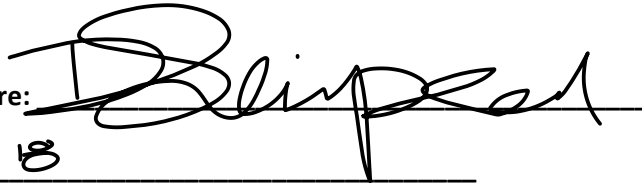

I am Devon Simpson a student in the Liberal Studies program at Capilano University. I would like to interview you because you are a student here at Capilano University. I have been asked to interview students about course availability for a module on interview methods for my LBST 200 Refocusing Knowledge course. Your participation is voluntary, and you have the right to refuse to participate in this study or withdraw at any time.

A summary of my findings will be incorporated into a reflection piece on interview methods which will be posted on my eportfolio site. Your name and identity will be kept confidential and no personalizing traits will appear in the article.

I do not anticipate any risks to you or others related to the interview. The questions will only relate to course availability. While modest in scope, this project may be of benefit to students as the issues raised in this study may be further explored for my final project.

In order to keep all information confidential, I am seeking your verbal consent to be interviewed for this assignment.

Researcher's signature:

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Devon Simpson', written over a horizontal line.

Date:

10-16-18

If you have any questions about this study, please contact me at devonleighsimpson@gmail.com, or contact my supervisor, Dr. Sean Ashley at seanashley@capilanou.