YOUNG. ASPIRING. & INCREDIBLY PREPARED.

Meet Sean A. Metcalf, a young and aspiring graphic designer out of Savannah, Georgia. He considers himself very fortunate to find something that he is passionate towards at a young age and is optimistic towards the coming years.

A 2011 BFA Graphic Design Graduate of SCAD (formerly The Savannah College of Art and Design), Sean Metcalf comes from a very diverse background. His original intention was to study Economics and play college golf, which he abandoned this year to go to school at The University of Louisiana. It was not until 2008 that he was fortunate enough to meet SCAD's inspiring faculty in Design, which he describes as "Some of The Best" since 2005. Sean was introduced with the 4th project as an opportunity to become a better designer than was his age is an advantage. "I'm grateful to feel inspired at a young age and for that I can have your love as positive and best!" Currently Metcalf is working on Graphic Design and is looking for design opportunities within disciplines of design. With Graphic Design, Metcalf sees his strengths lie in the areas of conceptualization, Sean also loves typography, if he can not find the typeface that provides what communication, he always ends asking the team to design his own type. For example, the logo type & branding of this publication. Now that Sean's academic pursuit is winding to an end, he is looking forward to finding a new home and team to work with.

RESUMETRICS

In 1996 Tracey Coleman headed to FSU to begin her coursework in pre-med biology. After writing a thesis on the wing-beat patterns of the housefly, she decided that Biology put her at risk of an early death from boredom and decided to turn her love of creativity into a career. In 2004, she graduated from the Art Institute of Atlanta with a B.F.A. in Graphic Design and upon landing an internship at FCB/Draft, packed her bags and moved to NY. For the past 7 years she has maintained an intricate love affair with New York, Advertising and Design with intermittent flings in Journalism and Entrepreneurship.
